

DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL CONVENTION CALLED TO ORDER AT NOON TODAY

It Looks Like Judge Parker Will Win on the First Ballot.

Majority of Ohio Delegates in Favor of New York Jurist

Opening Speech Delivered by John Sharp Williams This Afternoon

Senator Bailey May be Permanent Chairman—Tel- ler Comes Out For Parker—Harmon Being Boomed for Vice President but Turner Boom Appears Best Organized—Convention Hall Crowded at the Opening Session Today.

St. Louis, July 6.—The Democratic National Convention was called to order at 12 o'clock this noon.

One minute later David L. Hill and the New York delegation entered their seats without recognition from the crowd and at 12:03 the Tammany Braves entered also without attracting notice.

The balconies and galleries are well filled and the hall is stifling hot.

Loud applause greets the California and Hawaiian delegates as they enter with flying banners. Wm. J. Bryan at the head of the Nebraska delegation is well received.

At 12:05 the California delegation entered the hall shouting the battle cry: "Boom, boom, boom, crack, crack, California, California, Hearst, Hearst, Hearst." There was great cheering in the galleries as they marched up the aisle and back again. At 12:10 order having been obtained, the call for the convention was being read. At 12:12 p. m. prayer was offered by Rev. John F. Cannon of the Grand Avenue Presbyterian church. By 12:14 p. m. pretty nearly every seat in the hall was taken, with the exception of those in the galleries and they are now filling up.

At 12:18 p. m. the prayer was concluded and Chairman Jones announced the selection of James Sharp Williams of Mississippi, as temporary chairman. The convention cheered lustily and unanimously ratified the choice. Mr. Williams had to climb over the rails to get to the platform. This amused the crowd. At 12:20 p. m. National Committeeman Tarpey of California, and Mr. Guffey of Pennsylvania, were appointed a committee to escort Mr. Williams to the platform where he delivered his speech.

12:40 p. m.—The good points in Chairman Williams' speech are being received with great applause.

12:48—Many people in the big hall seem to be suffering with the heat. The men have nearly all taken their coats off and white clad boys are carrying water which is much in demand.

1:10—When Mr. Williams mentioned Grover Cleveland's name the convention went wild and cheered for five minutes.

1:12—A Tammany man was especially noisy urging along the Cleveland demonstration. Chairman Jones, who had been rapping vainly for order, directed that he be put out.

1:40—Half of the delegates are now on their chairs watching the commotion near the speaker's platform.

1:15—Michael Dalton is the man thrown out. His badge was torn off, his coat and thrown away.

1:17—Shouts of "Grover, Grover," are intermingled in some places with hisses.

1:19 p. m.—Mr. Williams has started speaking again but the confusion is so great that he cannot be heard more than a few feet away at this moment. Order was restored and Mr. Williams finished his address.

The convention at the conclusion of Mr. Williams' speech adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

JOHN SHARP WILLIAMS, OF MISSISSIPPI,

Who As Temporary Chairman Delivered the Keynote Speech of the Democratic National Convention in St. Louis Today.

SPEECH

Delivered By John Sharp Williams at Opening of Democratic National Convention.

St. Louis, Mo., July 6.—John Sharp Williams of Mississippi, the Democratic leader in the House of Representatives and temporary chairman of the National Democratic Convention, delivered a brilliant keynote speech of 12,000 words at the opening of the convention today. Mr. Williams scored the Republicans and the Republican nominee Theodore Roosevelt. He got after Mr. Roosevelt thus:

"How humorous to praise so highly our fellow citizen in the White House, who, in the line of great men who have filled the seat he now occupies, has himself found only about three in his opinion worthy of anything like untinted praise, George Washington, Abraham Lincoln and himself. Verily other humorists will have to retire from business and chief of these is Mr. Root."

He paid his compliments to the Republican platform which declares that the Republican party "is responsible for the relief of Cuba and the war with Spain." It is not the miseries of Cuba, but the public demand that led the Republican party to fall in line. The Democrats voted for the war measure as enthusiastically as the Republicans. Not the Republican party, but the people of America fought quickly the victorious war with Spain.

"It would be invasions to state the politics of the heroes, but it seems to me that I have heard that Dewey was a Democrat, that Schley was a Democrat, that General Miles was a Democrat, and it seems to me too, that I have heard that the Republican administration snubbed the first, tried to disgrace the second, and insulted the third."

Speaking of the trusts, he said: "One of the chairmen of the Republican convention says it has 'enjoined the beef trust.' The injunction does not seem to have any practical effect upon the beef trust or upon the price of beefsteak. The boast that the administration has executed the anti-trust laws is ridiculous. The attorney general, in response to a resolution of my own, frankly confessed that nothing would be done toward the criminal prosecution of the men found guilty by the supreme court in the Northern Securities case of having violated the law and incurred its penalties."

Mr. Williams read from the Republican platform: "Tariff rates should be readjusted. Conditions have so changed."

ASSURANCES

That Parker Will Win on First Ballot Are of the Most Positive Character.

St. Louis, July 6.—The anti-Parkerites have shot another bolt and have missed the mark.

There are some among them who yet refuse to believe it, but the end seems inevitable, and the assurances that Parker will be nominated perhaps on the first ballot are of the most positive character. At the Parker headquarters it was announced that consideration of the nomination itself had been passed; that the Parker managers were now engaged with considering convention details. The vice presidency, the platform, and the permanent chairmanship were under discussion. Ex-Senator Turner of Washington, was the best discussed man for second place today; but there are many who believe that in the end he will not reach, and that the nomination will go to Wisconsin, Indiana, or Illinois. Talk about the permanent chairmanship has reverted to Senator Bailey of Texas.

The interesting incident of yesterday was the attempt of the Bryan people to lure Judson Harmon of Ohio into a combination calculated to make him the candidate of the Bryan-Hearst people. Harmon's managers were too wary. There were long distance talks between St. Louis and Cincinnati, with Harlan Cleveland at this end, and Judson Harmon at the other. Judge Harmon positively declined to allow the use of his name in that connection. Bryan had announced that he would support Harmon if the latter would announce where he stood in 1896. Harlan Cleveland did not wait for word from Cincinnati to answer the question. "He voted for Palmer and Buckner," was his defiant rejoinder, "and if anybody wants to know about it, I did, too."

That settled it, and the Harmon boom died a 'bore'.

Then there was a good deal of talk about Harmon for second place. Cleveland put an end to that by announcing emphatically that under no consideration would Mr. Harmon accept second place. To make his attitude as emphatic as possible, Judson Harmon authorized Cleveland to announce his retirement from the contest for the nomination for first place as well. The Ohio delegation has a majority for Parker and expects to instruct for him before the convention meets.

Although Ohio, by an informal decision, is in favor of Parker, it is

TRAIN

Blown Off Track by a Tornado

ENGINEER UNABLE TO GET AWAY FROM STORM

Baggageman Killed and Twenty Passengers Injured.

CARS ROLLED DOWN THE BANK

Cyclone Swept Along the Little Town of Oakland, Ill., Tuesday Night, Doing Much Damage.

Springfield, Ill., July 6.—A tornado which swept along the little town of Oakland, 30 miles north of Springfield, struck a Chicago, Peoria and St. Louis passenger train at 6 o'clock last evening.

Baggageman Thomas Wiley of Springfield was killed and 20 passengers were injured.

The engineer saw the tornado approaching and stopped the train. No sooner had he done so than the storm struck the train, cutting the baggage coach and two cars from the engine and rolling them down a low embankment, carrying the cars a hundred feet from the track.

The cyclone then struck a big barn in the neighborhood, blowing the structure into splinters.

News of the disaster was wired here and the railroad company sent a wrecking train containing several physicians to the scene.

Among the injured are: Wm. H. Gridley, Chicago, general manager of the Peoria and St. Louis road, arm broken.

George A. Coleman, Springfield, conductor of train, head cut and bruised. Ernest Leib, Springfield, possibly fatally injured.

Henry C. Chaney, Springfield, head cut.

Thomas Hogan and wife, Springfield. Lyan, Chancellerville, Ill.

Henry J. Eichaneur, Petersburg, Ill. Benjamin Swayzee, mail clerk.

HARMON

Being Boomed For Vice President But the West Is Urging the Nomination of Turner.

St. Louis, June 6.—For vice president, Senator E. C. Carmack of Tennessee, or Governor Beckham of Kentucky.

These are the latest vice presidential booms sprung here.

The South is rushing forward its candidates, Tennessee has voted to support Carmack and Kentucky will stand for Beckham.

Despite the new booms, sentiment seems to be crystallizing in favor of either Senator Turner of Washington, Judson Harmon of Ohio, John W. Kern of Indiana, or Edward C. Wall of Wisconsin, for second place on the ticket.

The practical withdrawal of Harmon's name as a presidential candidate makes him appear the strongest of all the men named for vice president. His lieutenants have been in telephonic communication with him and it is now declared he is willing to accept.

The Turner boom appears the best organized of all the vice presidential booms and the Washington, Oregon, and other Pacific states are pushing his claim for all they are worth. His record on the Alaskan boundary commission is being read to delegates and the West's claim for a position on the ticket are being insisted upon.

THOS. E. WATSON- IS NOMINATED

By Populists in National Convention.

Tibbles, of Nebraska, Given Second Place on the Ticket—Platform of 1892 Is Reaffirmed.

Springfield, Ill., July 6.—Thomas E. Watson of Georgia, for president, and Thomas H. Tibbles of Nebraska, for vice president, was the ticket nominated by acclamation by the Populist National Convention.

The names of Senator William V. Allen of Nebraska, and of Samuel W. Williams of Indiana, were placed before the convention for president, but before the list of states had been completed in the roll call their names were withdrawn and Watson was nominated by acclamation.

Former Senator Allen made good his word that he would not enter into any scramble for the nomination.

Whether Watson will accept the nomination no one in the convention seemed to know. Watson was quoted as saying that if the Democrats at St. Louis nominated W. R. Hearst he would support him for president.

Williams of Indiana, who worked harder for the nomination and who boasted more than anyone else, made a poor showing, and when his own state was called, 11 of the 24 delegates refused to support him, voting for Allen. He soon withdrew in favor of Watson and moved to make the nomination of Watson unanimous.

The platform of 1892 adopted at Omaha was reaffirmed.

Socialist Labor Party

New York, July 6.—The Socialist Labor party which has been in convention here for several days, today nominated Charles H. Corrigan, a printer of Syracuse, New York, for president. William M. Cox, coal miner of Illinois, was named for vice president.

SSS THE BEST TONIC

In S. S. S. Nature has provided a tonic suited to every requirement of the system when in a debilitated, run-down condition. It contains no strong minerals or drugs, but is a pleasant vegetable preparation. You can find no better remedy for toning up the nerves and bringing refreshing, restful sleep.

S. S. S. improves the appetite and digestion, and its good effects are seen almost from the first dose. It acts promptly in cases of chronic dyspepsia, indigestion and all stomach troubles, and does away with the uncomfortable fullness, shortness of breath, drowsiness and dizziness that so often come after eating. S. S. S. is not only the best tonic, but possesses alternative or purifying properties, and if there is any taint, humor or poison in the blood, it searches it out and removes it. Many times a low state of health is due to a bad condition of the blood and can only be remedied by such a remedy as S. S. S.

If you suffer from debility, weakness, insomnia, nervousness, loss of appetite, bad digestion, or any of the miserable symptoms of a disordered blood, nothing will so soon put your blood in good condition, invigorate and tone up the system and restore the health as S. S. S.

SENATOR BURTON'S CASE.

J. R. Burton, United States Senator from Kansas, has just been granted an appeal to the supreme court of the land from the verdict which found him guilty of violating the laws of the United States. Burton was tried and convicted for connection with a "get-rich-quick" concern at St. Louis, his compensation being $500 a month paid, it was alleged, for use of his good offices with the government officials of the postoffice department. This appeal of the Burton case will probably postpone the final decision in his case for several months and possibly until his term in the senate expires. His chances of reelection in Kansas, however, are said to be very slender. Burton was assessed a fine amounting to the sum he is said to have received from the St. Louis concern and was given a jail sentence besides. Now the supreme court is to pass upon his case.

ARGUMENT FOR PARKER.

The Nashville American, one of the leading Democratic papers of Tennessee, makes this pertinent argument in favor of the nomination of Judge Parker:

Judge Parker's instructed vote is nearly altogether from states that are Democratic or the votes of which are necessary to Democratic success. The chief opposition to him comes from states that are hopelessly Republican. Shall these Republican states be permitted to defeat the expressed choice of Democratic states and doubtful states? Upon this proposition the World says: "Why should not the states that must furnish the electoral votes be permitted to name the candidate? The states that will vote for Judge Parker on the first or second ballot include every sure Democratic state and every doubtful state that the Democrats must carry to win the

It may then produce irregularity of the stomach and bowels, dyspepsia, catarrh, and marked tendency to consumption before manifesting itself in much cutaneous eruption or glandular swelling. It is best to be sure that you are quite free from it, and for its complete eradication you can rely on election. The states that are counted on as hostile to Judge Parker after the complimentary and commercial agreements have been fulfilled—though the claim is false as to several of them—are California, Colorado, Illinois, Idaho, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Nebraska, Ohio, Oregon, Nevada, Rhode Island, North Dakota, South Dakota, Utah, Washington, Wyoming, with a job lot of mercenaries from the territories that do not participate in the election. Is it not a significant fact that there is not an electoral vote for any Democratic candidate in any of the states whose delegations are counted on to oppose Parker to the end?

JUDGE HUNG IN EFFIGY.

A Boston judge who issued an order which deprived the Fourth of July celebration in that city of some of the dangerous characteristics which have been so fruitful of fatalities and accidents was hung in effigy amid the derisive jeers of a crowd. Nevertheless he probably set a precedent which will in the future be largely followed. The people of the United States generally are being aroused to the foolishness of celebrating Independence Day in a manner which necessarily involves the loss of hundreds of lives and the injury of thousands. A general protest was raised this year by the press against the continuance of the dangerous practices which have of late years prevailed, and in some communities the citizens as well as the authorities were moved to take action. In no city in the United States, probably, was the change in manner of "celebrating" the day more marked than right here in Newark. Mayor Crilly gave the order for a "sane" Fourth and the police executed the order. The boys had just as much fun as ever but not quite as much noise and it may be added that many of them today doubtless have more fingers than they would have had if permitted to freely use dynamite, torpedoes and the like in their capers Monday.

Twenty-five deaths and nearly 2,000 injuries were reported in yesterday's Chicago Tribune and the list was not complete. They may hang a man in effigy at Boston for giving common sense Fourth of July orders, but not so in Newark. Mayor Crilly is being congratulated on all sides.

BARBARIY IN WAR.

In reply to the Russian allegations of barbarity by the Japanese toward wounded and captured soldiers of the Czar, General Oku cites alleged instances of cruelty on the part of the Russians to their helpless enemies, at the same time denying the charges made against his own men. It is probable that there may be some foundation for the accusations of both sides, but not to anything like the extent charged. There are brutal men in all armies who in the excitement of battle will do horrible things. But there is no reason to believe that either the Russians or the Japanese have as a rule shown unnecessary cruelty toward their foes. As to the Japanese, the Russians themselves have several times given evidence concerning their consideration for the wounded and captured. Charges of this kind are made in every war with the view of influencing outside opinion, but they have practically no effect in that direction.—Pittsburg Post.

PARKER AND FIELD.

If it is only the field that is against Parker why not name Marshall Field and have the field with him?—Pittsburg Dispatch.

The total attendance at the World's Fair up to and including last Saturday, has been 3,500,923. The attendance in June was more than double that of May. The weekly attendance is now about 40,000.

KNOX COUNTY

Where the Author of the Law Lives. Will Foot the Bill.

Columbus, O., July 6.—Senator Houk, of Mt. Vernon, had a law passed last winter that expenses up to $500 caused because of a dog bite to a person shall be borne out of the county dog fund. It is a coincidence that the first demand for the payment will come from Knox county, where the author lives. State Bacteriologist Horton examined the carcass of a dog that bit a girl named Burson, at Fredericktown. The authorities were notified and the child was sent to Chicago at the expense of the county.

MORE CASH FOR DENISON

John D. Rockefeller Duplicates Gifts Which Will Net the Granville College $128,000—Bright Outlook for the Licking County College.

Granville, O., July 6.—Judging from the present outlook there is a brilliant future in store for Denison University of this place, the principal Baptist institution of learning in the country. Some time ago John D. Rockefeller agreed to duplicate any amount of money that Denison would raise up to July 1st of this year. The friends of the University have been hustling, and according to the report of Dr. E. W. Hunt, President of the University, which was forwarded to Mr. Rockefeller on July 1st they have succeeded in raising a little more than $4,000, which has already been paid in cash and pledges. Thus, with the amount given by Mr. Rockefeller realized over $128,000. President Hunt said today that the money in sight will complete the new heating plant of the institution, entirely rebuild the bath rooms in King and Burton Halls. It will not be sufficient, however, to complete entirely Cleveland Hall, but will be sufficient to complete the gymnasium and place the lockers and new bath rooms in condition so that they can be used by the students this fall. The upper rooms of this building will consist of society rooms, etc. The money also provides for a new gymnasium for young women, which is made possible by the gift of Dr. W. H. Doane of Cincinnati, and it will also provide for several thousands of dollars of improvements and equipments in the present buildings and will also add in the neighborhood of $16,000 to the productive endowment fund.

Plans for the general repair of the furnaces in the public school building were accepted. Seventy-five people took dinner at the Ornsdorf restaurant on the Fourth.

A pleasant reunion was held at the home of Mrs. Julia S. Powell on the Fourth in honor of the visit of Mr. Henry Churchill of New York City. Mrs. Joseph Atkinson of Pataskala, Edwin M. Shaver and family of Hebron, Cordelia McShaner of Hebron, and Mrs. Wayland Marlow of Niagara Falls. A fine dinner was enjoyed and then in the quiet shade, away from the fusillade of the "Glorious Fourth" the social part was enjoyed.

FORTUNE CAME TO HIM

Romance in Connection With Fabian's Death.

Chicago, July 4.—A romance regarding an estate left by Morris Fabian, of San Francisco, has been brought to light in Chicago. The estate and other legacies are bequeathed to Fabian's three daughters, who, when infants, were adopted in Kansas City by different families. One of the daughters died, the second is supposed to be in Chicago; the third is said to be here from Newark, N. J., looking for the missing sister.

Fabian, after his wife's death in Kansas City 15 years ago, was in straitened circumstances. Later fortune smiled upon him in San Francisco where, however, he is reported to have died suddenly before finding his missing daughter. Her name is Sadie and she would now be about 17 years of age. Her surviving sister, Rebecca, is said to be comfortably provided for by relatives in Newark, N. J.

BOY

The Image of His Dead Child An Eastern Man Begged To be Allowed To Adopt Him.

Salt Lake, Utah, July 6.—With his voice so choked with sobs that he could talk only at intervals, C. A. Spofford, who says he is a stenographer to President Roosevelt, pleaded with J. H. Woolsey, of Salt Lake, to let him adopt the latter's twelve-year old son Edwin, who, Spofford says, is the exact image of his little son who died three months ago.

Spofford met the Woolsey boy on the street a few days ago, bought him a new suit of clothes and accompanied him home, where he endeavored in vain to persuade the boy's parents to let him adopt their son. "Four years ago," he said, "my wife and infant child died, leaving me one son. Three months ago this boy, whom I fairly idolized, passed away. Since then life for me has been but a dreary waste. I have nothing more to live for. I have plenty of money, but that will not bring back my loved one."

The stranger's emotion made so great an impression on the father that he consented to let the boy be taken to Washington to be educated with the understanding that he be sent home at least twice each year. Spofford took the boy to Ogden, agreeing to bring him back in case the lad decided not to go to Washington. The boy got homesick and Spofford returned him to his parents last night. Spofford is said to be a son of Ainsworth R. Spofford, Librarian of Congress. He left for the East last night.

ACCIDENTALLY

Lima Boy, Killed His Chum, It Is Said—Gives Bail For Appearance Tomorrow Morning.

Lima, O., July 6.—Edward D. Lappin, who accidentally killed his chum, Harold Cline, in a boys' fistfight, was given a preliminary hearing, pleaded not guilty to manslaughter and friends gave bail for his appearance Thursday in the sum of $2,500. The young murderer can not be comforted.

An autopsy held over the body showed Cline's heart to be very weak, and physicians claim any sudden shock would have at any time probably been fatal.

Both young men were society boys, and clumsy, and the affair, deplorable as it was, can not be considered a murder, but more of an accident.

Lappin interfered in a fight between the dead boy and his brother, Ralph Cline and was attacked by the former. In defending himself, Lappin struck Cline with his fist, the blow landing over the heart and death resulting within an hour.

Young Cline is a son of E. E. Cline, the oil magnate, while Lappin is a bookkeeper for the Standard Oil company.

MISSIONARY

Meeting Held By Woman's Baptist
Missionary Circle at Granville —An Enjoyable Gathering.

Granville, O., July 5.—A missionary meeting of unusual interest was held in Granville Friday. The Woman's Baptist Missionary Circle has been in the habit for several years past of having an outdoor meeting and basket picnic some time during the summer.

Mrs. Gilpatrick has offered the hospitality of her spacious lawn to the circle, and was the hostess on this occasion.

The first Friday of the month being the date of the regular meeting, last Friday, July 1, was the time chosen for the outdoor meeting.

The inclemency of the weather, however, was so great to permit of an outdoor meeting, so the house was prepared for the occasion. The promise of the whole meeting had been most attractive, and clouds and cool breezes could not keep the people away, and nearly the entire membership of the circle, with their guests young people, and in some cases the husbands and brothers responded, until 95 were present, a considerable increase over any similar occasion.

The subject of the meeting, "In the Southern Highlands," was handled in a masterly manner by Miss Mary Wilson. Her paper was thoroughly prepared, was clear, comprehensive, interesting and attractive.

The "Current Events" followed, and the latest news from various missionary fields was briefly reported.

Besides the regular program the circle was unusually favored by having both the Associational Home and Foreign Missionary secretaries present, being respectively Mrs. George Fraker and Mrs. J. W. Smith of Columbus. Both spoke interestingly of phases of the work they represented, without attempting any direct appeal for aid.

A trio consisting of Miss Harford, Miss McKibbin and Miss Rhoads sang "My Country 'Tis of Thee," and appropriate to the subject of the meeting, it being one of the Home Mission days.

Supper was served by hospitable hands and the company dispersed with many new and pleasant impressions. A number of guests from out of town were present, among whom were: Mrs. R. B. Smith, El Paso, Tex.; Miss Bessie Spiger, Spokane, Wash.; Mrs. Eugene Knapp and Mrs. C. R. Strawn, Santa Barbara, Cal.; Mrs. Ella Fraker, Mrs. J. Warren Smith, Mrs. A. D. Cole, Mrs. W. J. Finley and Miss Rosa Kerr, all of Columbus.

A little life may be sacrificed to an hour's delay. Cholera infantum, dysentery, diarrhoea come suddenly. Only safe plan is have Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry always on hand.

HORSE THIEF WEPT

As He Threw His Arms About Mr. Rutledge and Told the Story of His Downfall—Man Stole Five Horses in Five Weeks.

County Recorder J. W. Rutledge, Tuesday night returned from Columbus, Ind., where he had gone to identify J. A. Adams, the man who had stolen his horse and buggy several weeks ago. Mr. Rutledge says that upon arriving in Columbus he went to the county jail, where he immediately recognized the man who had been arrested on the charge of stealing a horse, as the same man who had stolen his mare and buggy. The recognition was mutual and Adams made a long statement to Mr. Rutledge.

He said that he had been in poor health for some time, and that his mother had given him $500 and told him that she thought it would benefit him to do a little traveling. Adams, which is not his right name, said that his people were well-to-do farming people; that they lived on the Atlantic coast, that his mother lived in a beautiful part of the country, and owned land on both sides of the road; that she lived in a handsome brick house; that he had two sisters and two brothers, and that his brothers also lived in the country, just across the road from his mother's. He however said that he would suffer before he would disclose his identity or that of his family. Soon after starting away from home, he said, he began drinking and playing cards, and in a short time his money was gone. He said that he then became reckless, and in order to replenish his purse stole a horse and buggy, which he sold and with the proceeds again began gambling, only to lose all his money in a short time. He then made a business of stealing horses and he told Mr. Rutledge that in his entire career of stealing of crime he had stolen three horses in Ohio and two in Indiana. During the recital of his crimes to Mr. Rutledge he became so affected that he threw his arms around Mr. Rutledge's neck and wept, saying that he did not expect to breathe the free air of heaven again for at least twenty-five years. He however, asked for no clemency at the hands of Mr. Rutledge, but said that it was his intention to repay him every cent that it had cost him in securing possession of his horse. He also informed Mr. Rutledge as to the whereabouts of his buggy. He said that after starting out of Newark he had driven direct to Grove City, Ohio, where he traded the buggy to the proprietor of the hardware store at that place, the hardware merchant giving him $15 to boot.

He attributes all his trouble to drink and card playing, and said that in all his life before leaving home he had not drunk, altogether, a gallon of beer or intoxicating liquor. He will be prosecuted in Indiana for the crimes committed in that state.

Mr. Rutledge left for Grove City, O., Wednesday to recover his buggy.

CHERRY TREE ACCIDENT

Little Girl at Hartford Fell From a Tree While Picking Fruit and Teeth of Steel Rake Penetrated Her Skull—Mrs. Thurston's Condition Unimproved.

The Advocate's correspondent at Croton sends the following news of the serious injury of the youngest daughter of Mr. Edward Shaffer, who is well known here.

A very serious accident occurred at Hartford Sunday afternoon to Mary, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shaffer. She with other children had been getting cherries from a tree with the aid of a steel garden rake. Mary climbed up some distance into the tree and lost her hold, falling directly on the rake, striking her head, the teeth penetrating clear through the skull, also another one arm. Drs. Hempstead and Stoughton were immediately summoned and did all that was possible to relieve the little girl of her sufferings. At this time she has high fever, but is resting quite comfortably. The doctors are yet unable to determine the result.

MRS. THURSTON'S CONDITION.

The condition of Mrs. Augusta Thurston, corner High and Fifth streets, who fell from a cherry tree several days ago, breaking her back and both arms, is not improved. While Mrs. Thurston is resting comfortably just now, she is completely paralyzed below the hips.

W. P. TAYLOR

Drugstore Proprietor, Says He Is No Creditor of R. M. Smith.

Referee Charles M. Rogers returned from Newark, where he held the first meeting of creditors in the case of R. M. Smith, formerly a prosperous druggist. The bankrupt was examined by the court to determine what had become of the money received for the store.

Mr. Smith testified that he turned the drugstore over to a creditor to satisfy a claim of about $2500 held against him. Since the transaction the creditor has been the owner of the store, conducting it for himself.

C. C. Forry was elected trustee under bond of $500. Among his first duties will probably be that of recovering the drugstore on the ground that the creditor was preferred, which is contrary to the bankruptcy act.

The liabilities of Mr. Smith aggregate about $4,000. He has no assets, except the store.—Columbus Dispatch

Mr. W. P. Taylor, the present proprietor of the store, says that he is no creditor of R. M. Smith, and distinctly wants it understood that he has no connection with the matter whatever.

Savings Bank Depositors.

Many depositors have neglected to present pass books and certificates of deposit for balance and verification. The presentation of books and certificates is necessary to have depositors accounts in list of creditors when report is made to the court as all creditors will be named therein. There are over three hundred books that have not been returned for balance and a prompt action to this notice is desired.

WILLIAMS' SPEECH

ed that public interest demands their alteration.

"Public interest, in this connection," he declared from man who wrote it and convention which adopted it, really means "protected interests."

"Does not everybody, who knows anything, know that the Republican party has no idea of making any alterations in the tariff, unless they can thereby purchase the support of additional special interests, or tie to them already bought special interests by yet closer bonds?"

"The convention is listening very attentively to Mr. Williams speech. At one point in speaking of the Cuban campaign Mr. Williams provoked applause by saying: "General Joe Wheeler was more in evidence at San Juan than the strenuous himself and Joe Wheeler was a Democrat."

Of the negro question in the South the speaker said: "That both races in the South are now enjoying peace and prosperity rendered possible only by home rule and white supremacy."

"Let the South not deceive itself, either. If the Republican party were sincere in its proposition to reduce Southern representation on the ground of the disfranchisement of the negro race in the South, thereby condoning the disfranchisement or pretended 'unconstitutional limitation' itself, it would accompany that proposition with another, to wit: 'The proposition to repeal the fifteenth amendment.'

"Commercially and industrially, the white man of the South will not be much more injured by this sort of agitation than Northern people will be. The mercantile class in the South would be the first to suffer, but, as they owe debts to the North, and buy from the North and as nearly everything they sell is manufactured in the North, they would not be alone in their suffering."

"This is but the entering wedge to a new period of Southern reconstruction. It is the beginning over, of the old scheme, revived for political advantage, to retain, as a Republican asset, the solid negro vote in Indiana, Illinois, New Jersey and like conditioned states by demoralizing Southern industries unsettling business and labor, disintegrating society and as a remote effect if successful, hybridizing the races there, and Africanizing its civilization."

"But enough about the other party. Something about ourselves—one thing the country can rely upon; the Democracy will nominate for president a man trained in the ways of the constitution, who will not usurp legislative or judicial functions; who will not recklessly violate international usages, who will not keep people guessing about what he is going to do or say next; it will not nominate him upon a platform ignoring dead issues and dealing with every present live issue in tones certain and unmistakable; favoring economy of administration, an enforcement of honesty in the public service, a wise and businesslike revision and reduction of the tariff by the friends of the masses and of the commonwealth and not by tariff beneficiaries and their representatives alone, a reduction which shall aim at 'equality of burdens and equality of opportunities' and whose ultimate object shall be to raise a revenue by taxation to support the federal government in virility but in simplicity."

"It will not falter when it comes to declaring for a reduction of tariff taxation on trust produced articles to the point where foreign competition may enter the American market, whenever combines seeking monopoly raise their prices to the American consumer to the point of extortion, nor will it falter in declaring for reduction where American concerns habitually charge American consumers higher prices than those charged foreigners for identical articles. It will come out flat-footed for amicable, rather than retaliatory trade relations with the other nations of the world, and especially for generous reciprocity with Canada. It will denounce the heedless and reckless utterances of the candidate of the Republican party for president in his letter to ex-Secretary Root, upon the second anniversary of Cuban independence."

"We will announce unmistakably to the world and to the nations of Europe that we will not make of the army and navy of the United States the constabulary for the collection of their debts from the governments or peoples of South and Central America."

ample of American courage, justice and magnanimity, to be imitated as soon as it can be wisely and safely done in the Philippines, ultimately leaving them, and giving them the promise now thus to leave them, free and independent. The Democracy, in my opinion, believes that the white man will have trouble enough to maintain in its full integrity the white man's civilization in all parts of his own country. A Democratic president such as he whom we shall nominate will devote himself to the faithful execution of the laws of the United States as they are written, without executive construction or usurpation. It will bring about the upbuilding of a merchant marine, and bring it about without new or additional taxation upon the people and without bounties from the public treasury, simply by recurrence to those laws which were in force when we had a merchant marine of which every American citizen was proud."

"Under a Democratic administration the rights of labor will be recognized as no less 'vested' no less 'sacred' no less 'inalienable' than the rights of capital, and both will be dealt with justly and impartially, according to their every right. The Democratic party will not hypocritically pretend to sympathize with those who desire or with those who would not, by all lawful and constitutional means prevent the Africanization or Mongolization of any state or community within the bounds of the American republic."

"The Democracy when entrusted with power, will construct the Panama canal speedily, honestly and economically."

"Above all, and in conclusion, a good Democratic administration will ponder and practice the simple precepts of Jefferson's first inaugural address. It is the political sermon on the Mount, for Democratic republicans."

"Gentlemen, it is in the power of no man or party to assure success. It is in the power of the humblest to deserve it. God grant that we may have it. Let us by the character of our platform, and the character of our candidate deserve it. Let us erect a standard to which all good men may repair."

NOT SURPRISED AT OHIO.

St. Louis, Mo., July 6.—Notwithstanding the progress made during the night by the Parker boomers, in capturing the Ohio delegation, or at least a large part of it, the anti were as strong as ever today in claiming strength to prevent Parker's nomination at the outset of the balloting. W. H. Thompson, a delegate at large from Nebraska, made a statement in which he declared the anti-Parker people would remain steadfast. "We did not expect Ohio anyhow," he said, "and therefore we are not surprised. New Jersey will stand pat against Parker."

CONVENTION

laration of preferences indicated a majority for Parker last night as late as nine o'clock in the evening W. J. Bryan issued a formal statement confidently claiming Ohio in the anti-Parker column.

Massachusetts caucused and determined to stick to Olney to the end. North Dakota, with nine votes, and Kentucky with 26, came out for Parker. Murphy, of Tammany, stood pat. "My attitude and opinion have not changed," he said. But he also announced that, whatever the decision of the convention, Tammany will abide by it. Even Tammany seems to be ready to get into the band wagon.

GUS KARGER.

SENATOR BAILEY

May Be Selected As Permanent Chairman of the Convention Say the Parker Men.

St. Louis, June 6.—It was stated at the Parker headquarters this morning that Senator Bailey of Texas would probably be selected for permanent chairman of the convention. The Parker leaders have not decided upon their candidate for vice president. Senator Turner of Washington is favorably thought of by them, but circumstances may change this.

TELLER FOR PARKER.

St. Louis, Mo., July 6.—(Bulletin)—Senator Teller, Democratic leader of Colorado, and for years a leading silver man in the United States Senate, today telegraphed Senator Thomas expressing his preference for Judge Parker as the presidential nominee.

ANTI-PARKER CAUCUS.

St. Louis, Mo., July 6.—An anti-Parker caucus held in the South Dakota headquarters at the Planters Hotel at 2 a. m. today, was presided over by ex-Senator Pettigrew. Through Chairman Handy, of the Delaware delegation, he gave out a statement that a careful poll of the delegates to the convention, showed that the forces opposed to Judge Parker control about 400 votes, which he says, is enough to defeat the Parker plan. In the conference also were Charles A. Towne, Greene of Rhode Island, Barkworth of Michigan, and others.

WM. J. BRYAN

May Not Make Platform Fight in the Convention—Not Formally Declared His Position.

St. Louis, July 6.—At the meeting of the Nebraska delegation Wm. J. Bryan was appointed to represent the state on the committee on resolutions, and there was some discussion on the position the state shall assume on the platform.

Mr. Bryan's contention will be for the reaffirmation of the Kansas City platform, but the delegation recognizes the impossibility of securing such a stand. The discussion was therefore devoted largely to the consideration of what to do in that event.

No conclusion was reached, but the tendency is to accept the situation if fairly liberal declarations can be secured, as it is believed there can be. In that event Mr. Bryan will probably not make a platform fight on the convention floor.

He has not formally declared his position, but his fellow delegates thus interpret it.

MR. BRYAN REPORTED ILL.

St. Louis, Mo., July 6.—There was a report this morning that Bryan was seriously ill. But this was denied by his brother, Charles, who said that the Nebraska was more tired out than anything else.

At 8:30 o'clock today Bryan was still in bed, which is most unusual for him. His room was dark last night at 11:30.

"Mr. Bryan experienced some symptoms of fever during the night," said his brother, Charles, "but I do not think it amounted to anything. I do not think it will be necessary to give Mr. Bryan any medicine. No, Mr. Bryan is not prostrated, not even partially prostrated."

MR. NEWTON CALLS ON MR. HILL.

St. Louis, July 6.—It's all over but the shouting, so far as the presidential nomination is concerned. The delegates are still flocking to Judge Parker and his nomination seems assured on the first or second ballot.

J. H. Newton of Newark, carrying a red bandana kerchief of the Thurman type, called yesterday to pay his respects to David B. Hill. Mr. Hill and Mr. Newton are old-time friends. To the Newark man Mr. Hill said: "Judge Parker is a good man and a new man. The Democracy should nominate a man of his type and count out such old men as myself who have been sufficiently honored by the party."

OHIO CAUCUS

Majority of the Delegates Expressed Themselves For Judge Parker—McLean Committeeman.

St. Louis, July 6.—The Ohio delegation organized as follows:

Chairman, Will S. Thomas, Springfield.

Vice chairman, M. A. Dougherty, Lancaster.

Secretary, Oscar Newman, Portsmouth.

Assistant secretary, W. P. Pomeroy, Coshocton.

Treasurer, James Ross, Columbus.

Sergeant-at-Arms, Joseph Goidsol, Cleveland.

First assistant sergeant-at-arms, Alonzo A. Shetter, Columbus.

Second assistant sergeant-at-arms, John L. Dwyer, Toledo.

Third assistant sergeant-at-arms, James A. Divine, Chillicothe.

National committeeman from Ohio, John R. McLean.

Member-committee on credentials, W. D. Yapple, Chillicothe.

Rules and order of business, Wellington Stillwell, Millersburg.

Permanent organization, Harlan Cleveland, Cincinnati.

Resolutions, John A. McMahon, Dayton.

To notify presidential candidate John H. Calke, Cleveland.

To notify vice presidential candidate M. M. Padgett, Warren.

At a caucus lasting several hours the Ohio delegation last night adopted a resolution declaring that the delegates should vote their voluntary preferences for candidates for president. A majority expressed themselves for Judge Parker and since Ohio is under the unit rule this action is believed to preclude the action of the delegation before the convention. It was agreed, however, that the action of the meeting should not be binding. It is understood Judson Harmon's name was withdrawn at his request telegraphed to a close friend on the delegation.

John R. McLean was elected national committeeman, Johnson alone opposing the motion that the election be unanimous. W. D. Yapple was elected member of the credentials committee and John A. McMahon was elected over Tom Johnson as member of the resolutions committee.

Considerable feeling was manifested in the delegation at the action of the Parker men in withdrawing the name of Judson Harmon. It was claimed that earlier in the day 40 out of 56 of the delegates had been pledged to vote for Harmon for the presidency and Hearst and McClelland men and all the factions opposed to Parker were urged to concentrate on Ohio's favorite son.

In the expression of preference the final vote stood: Parker 25, Olney 2, McClelland 7, Hearst 4, Harmon 7 and Folk 1; Tom Johnson voting for the last named candidate.

MADELINE'S
SELFISHNESS

By MARA VENE KENNEDY

Copyright, 1904, by G. T. Viskind.

Her indolent grace irritated Harding. Even her serene, audacious loveliness found no favor in his eyes today. Her big, gray eyes looked out from under the sweeping lashes mockingly.

"Your silence means that I am going to be scolded shortly. Don't. I may mistake your interest and think you're in love with me. With all your wisdom and recondite philosophy you're only thirty-one, you know."

Harding reddened uncomfortably.

"If you only would fall in love with me!" she wheedled. "Think how it would develop your character to put the tender emotion underfoot! And how instructive to me to see your convolutions, to know that not even love could make you condone my indolence and selfishness!"

"And your conceit," he added caustically. "I'm thinking of my own affairs, not yours, unfortunately." A sudden weariness smote his eyes.

"Madeline, I shall have to make an assignment and go out of business. Rob's failure has involved me deeply. Could I pay Mercer I could pull through, but I can't raise even $1,000 with the other claims against the stock. Money is very close now. I shall have to go to the city and take a position for awhile unless—"

"When do you assign?" she interrupted calmly.

"Next week. I'll give myself every hour's grace I can. Something may happen, but it's a forlorn hope."

"Then we shall lose you and your vast store of knowledge, and I shall be free from your rebuking tongue. But I'm truly sorry, Duncan, that you are in trouble. I really wouldn't have embraced my gain at your loss—premeditatedly."

"WHERE ARE YOUR RINGS, MADELINE?" HE CRIED SHARPLY.

She held out her jeweled fingers and laughed joyously. The pried up gems that flashed under Harding's tired eyes were no more heartless than their beautiful owner, he thought savagely. Selfish as he had always believed her, he was yet stunned by her indifference. He had been George Rives' closest friend and had promised him on his deathbed six years before to keep a watchful eye over his mother, a gracious, delicate woman of fifty, and his sister Madeline, a willful beauty of sixteen.

Because she loved diamonds Madeline had promptly put one half of her patrimony on coming of age into numerous rings to adorn her slender, tapering, pink-nailed fingers. The other half was tied up so she could not handle it or she would have weighted her toes with them, too. Harding declared in disgust when he saw her investment. The Riveses were comfortably fixed, but it was only by careful financing and good management that mother and daughter could live in the comparative luxury they did. Mrs. Rives spoiled Madeline as only a doting mother can, but then every one, save Harding, took a hand at spoiling Madeline. She was so very lovely and so irresistibly sweet despite the selfishness Harding so greatly deplored.

Harding was hurt. He ignored the jeweled fingers and strode angrily toward her mother, who was approaching from the other end of the wide, comfortable veranda. Madeline's smile was enigmatical as she gazed at the big, broad shouldered figure towering above her mother and openly disdainful at his whispered command on leaving.

"Don't tell your mother. She's unselfish enough to care."

Mrs. Rives looked at Madeline disapprovingly as Harding trumped angrily down the long walk.

"Why will you persist in quarreling with Duncan?" she rebuked gently. "No brother could be kinder."

"I don't like paragon," said Madeline shortly. "It does him good to be disagreed with once in awhile and to lose his temper. He should be grateful to me, and—"

"He's not," concluded her mother impressively. She shook her head sadly. She had hoped things would be different between Duncan and Madeline.

As day after day passed and Duncan did not come she was truly angry with her willful daughter.

But the girl had never seemed so happy. She was like a blithe-some song bird with her bubbling spirits and gaiety. And when, after a week's absence, Duncan did appear, she greeted even him with a smile of alluring sweetness. "You think I'm going away," he said bitterly as Mrs. Rives left them to gether. "You're rejoicing too soon. Some one has loaned me $1,000. Who it is the Lord only knows. It came three days ago, ten $100 bills, with a typewritten note saying: 'Accept this loan from a friend. You can repay it with legal interest when you feel amply able to do so. I will disclose myself then; I cannot do so now.'"

"And you have no idea?" she asked wonderingly. "Perhaps it was Mercer himself. He may want to repay good for the evil he has done you. Even wicked folks are penitent—sometimes." "But selfish ones are never generous," he retorted. "You—you were glad of my misfortune. You thought it would rid you of me and my preachments. Don't you know, Madeline, I reproach you only for your own good?"

"If I were as selfish as you think me," she said seriously, "for my own good" might prove efficacious. It's hard to be unselfish when folks perpetually insist upon holding the thought 'for my own good.' If it were only for some one else's good I might—"

The tenderness in her voice disarmed him. "I wish we could be good friends," he said gently and took her slender hands in his. Something strange in their touch made him unclasp his fingers. He stared dumbly for a moment, then—

"Where are your rings, Madeline?" he cried sharply.

"I—I'm tired of wearing them," she faltered. "Mr. Ross said my hands were too beautiful to need adornment." And she laughed gayly. Harding gazed intently at the flushed face.

"Where are your rings?" he commanded roughly. The uncertainty made him cruel. "Tell me."

"Is that your affair?" she asked imperiously.

"Yes," he said tensely, "it is. If you have sold them for me it means—"

Heaven, Madeline—darling, don't you know how I love you?"

"You love—me?" she cried in a voice Duncan had never heard before. "Me? Oh, Duncan! Then—then why have you always been so—so fault finding?"

"Because I did love you," he whispered remorsefully. "I wanted to punish you for not loving me."

"Then—then that's why I was always so cross with you too," she cried, with sudden understanding.

He gathered her in his arms. "It was our selfishness," he said humbly.

"Ours! not mine alone, this time. Duncan, you truly do love me!"

Rapturously he kissed the pretty fingers.

"My unselfish darling," he murmured. "But it was selfishness," she cried hurriedly. "I didn't want—you—to go."

"I don't mind that sort of selfishness, my precious," he said.

Mother Elephant and Her Baby.

A remarkably intelligent elephant working a few years ago on a new bridge in Ceylon had a young one to which she was devoted. It died, and she became inconsolable.

Formerly the gentlest of creatures, she grew irritable and even dangerous. One morning she broke the chain which confined her and escaped into the forest.

One night about ten days after her escape the officer who had been in charge of her went out to lie in wait for bears at a pond in a jungle at some distance.

As he and his native attendant were returning early in the morning the native silently nudged him, and they saw in the dim gray light an elephant with her calf making their way toward the camp. They both sprang behind trees, and when the elephants had passed the native insisted that the older one was their old friend the inconsolable mother.

When they reached the camp they found that the trunk had returned and had gone from one person to another, touching each with her trunk, as if exhibiting her adopted child, which she had evidently begged, borrowed or stolen in her absence.

Her good temper and usual docility returned at once, and her owner blessed the good fortune which had enabled her to procure a baby elephant.

Tipped Himself to a Boat.

They were talking of catboats, when the host said: "Until I began the thing myself I never knew how many men who affect to despise small economies get up early or stay out late to get shaved in the 10 cent barber shops. They never go near them in the middle of the day, because they are afraid of having the face known. I have met acquaintances in Second avenue, Third avenue, Eighth and Ninth avenues and all the way from Harlem to Grand street who patronize these cheap barbers, sometimes, one shop and sometimes another. The majority of these places are clean. They are open from 7 in the morning until 10 at night, and no tips seem to be expected. I have been to the same shop a dozen times, and although I never gave a tip, I always was well treated. For 20 or 25 cents you can get as much work done as would cost 40 or 50 cents in a first class shop, exclusive of the tip. Of course a fellow feels foolish to be seen coming out of one, but he must take that risk."

"Why did you interrupt a talk about your new catboat to tell me that?" asked his friend.

"Because," was the reply, "it is the way I saved money to buy the boat."

CHARLES W. FAIRBANKS.

Career of the Indiana Republican

Named For Vice President.

The career of Charles Warren Fairbanks, Republican candidate for vice president of the United States, illustrates once more the familiar fact that in this democratic land it is possible to rise from the lowliest to the highest station. The parents of Senator Fairbanks were of excellent New England stock, and in later years his father, Loriston Monroe Fairbanks, became an influential and fairly well-to-do member of the community. But when the candidate for vice president was born, May 11, 1852, the paternal abode was a simple log cabin.

When Charles was about four years of age a frame house of more pretentious character was erected for the shelter of the growing family, and the old cabin was put to use as a storehouse. While other members of the household were at work on the new home four-year-old Charles accidentally set the old one on fire, and it burned to the ground, nearly burning him up with it. His father had a farm of several hundred acres in Union county, O., near Unionville Center, and by the time he was six years of age the embryo statesman was quite a young farmer, assisting in planting the corn, driving the cows to pasture and chopping kindlings.

He attended the district school and at ten was sent to an academy at Woodstock, a nearby town. At sixteen he entered Ohio Wesleyan university, where he graduated in 1872. During his course he became acquainted with Miss Cornelia Cole, daughter of Judge P. B. Cole of Marysville, O., a fellow student who contributed "social notes" to the college paper, of which he was editor. The acquaintance resulted in an intimacy which culminated in their marriage. Mr. Fairbanks was admitted to the bar in Ohio, but in 1874 settled in Indianapolis and in time established a very lucrative practice. He is said to have received as high as $100,000 for a single fee and is reported to be worth several millions. Entering politics, he was elected to the United States senate in 1897 and re-elected in 1903.

ADMIRAL KAMIMURA.

Luck Has Been Against Him In Maneuvers on the Japan Sea.

One of the most difficult tasks committed to an officer of the Japanese navy is that intrusted to Vice Admiral Kamimura, who is second in command to Vice Admiral Count Togo and a hero of the China-Japanese war. Admiral Kamimura is charged with the duty of looking after the Russian Vladivostok fleet, which has been operating in the Japan sea, lying between northern Japan and the southern coast of Siberia. Over these waters Admiral Kamimura and the commander of the Russian squadron, Admiral Skrydlov, have been playing a game of hide and seek.

The Russian cruisers of the Vladivostok squadron have succeeded in doing considerable injury to the Japanese, having recently sunk several transports and thus interfered with the transportation of Japanese troops to Manchuria and the return of wounded and sick Japanese soldiers to their own country. The operations of this squadron have been shrouded in much mystery. Its plan seems to be to dash out and do as much damage as possible and then get back to Vladivostok again before the Japanese admiral can find it and attempt a punishment. The use of wireless telegraphy by both Russians and Japanese has added an element of novelty and excitement to these mysterious naval maneuvers.

Admiral Kamimura was in command of the Akitsushima at the battle of the Yalu during the China-Japan war and gave a good account of himself then. He was also conspicuous in the first assault on Port Arthur during the present war.

THIRTIETH

ANNUAL REUNION OF 22d OHIO VOLUNTEER INFANTRY.

Forty of the Old Veterans Attended the Gathering—Next Meeting at Dayton, July 4, 1935.

Granville, O., July 6.—The thirtieth annual reunion of the 22d Ohio Volunteer Infantry regiment was held in the Granville Opera House on independence Day, Capt. Burch of Dayton presiding.

This regiment, although originally known as the 12th Missouri Volunteer, and organized at St. Louis Mo., from August 9 to November 5, 1861, to serve three years, was commanded by Ohio officers, and its ranks filled mainly by soldiers from this state. Its designation was changed to the 22d regiment Ohio Infantry by order of the Secretary of War, May 29, 1862. This regiment participated in the following battles and skirmishes: Fort Donelson, Feb. 14 to 16, 1862; Shiloh, Tenn., April 6 to 7, 1862; Corinth (siege of) April 30 to May 30, 1862; Corinth (battle) Oct. 3 and 4, 1862; Trenton, Tenn., Dec. 26, 1862; Little Rock, Ark., (occupation), Sept. 10, 1863.

There were about 40 of the members of this old regiment present, and it was with warm hearts that the comrades clasped hands and recalled the trying scenes of forty years ago. Tenderly, yea, proudly, they spoke of those who had given their lives to their country.

The Alexandria Drum Corps furnished splendid martial music for the occasion.

A feature of the occasion was the recital of a beautiful poem by Miss Graves of Alameda, Ohio, and the singing of the "Gem of the Ocean" by Miss Gibbs of Dayton.

The old veterans who were present at the reunion pronounced it one of the most pleasant and enjoyable ever held, and will long be remembered by the association.

The association will hold its next meeting in Dayton on July 4, 1935.

Detwiler of Harrisburg, Pa., one of the most prominent and distinguished members of the order. Mr. Detwiler was Past Grand Exalted Ruler of the Elks and was always a most efficient and valued member. He was one of the most distinguished lawyers of Pennsylvania, and one of the finest orators among the Elks, an order that boasts of many great orators. Mr. Detwiler died suddenly after a brief illness of only twenty-four hours from an acute attack of peritonitis.

CLEANLY WOMAN.

Erroneously Thinks by Scouring Her Scalp That She Cures Dandruff.

Cleanly woman has an erroneous idea that by scouring the scalp, which removes the dandruff scales, she is curing the dandruff. She may wash her scalp every day, and yet have dandruff her life long, accompanied by falling hair, too. The only way in the world to cure dandruff is to kill the dandruff germ, and there is no hair preparation that will do that but Newbro's Herpicide. Herpicide by killing the dandruff germ, leaves the hair free to grow as healthy Nature intended. Destroy the cause you remove the effect. Kill the dandruff germ with Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

MYSTERY

IS TELEGRAM WHICH WAS SENT TO MANSFIELD

By Ore George Graham Announcing the Alleged Drowning at Buckeye Lake, July 4.

The report of the alleged drowning of one Jacob Franks at Buckeye Lake on July 4th was based on a telegram sent from the Newark office of the Western Union by George Graham, who presented the message and paid for the same Monday evening. A reply to the dispatch was received from James Franks of Mansfield, supposed to be a brother of Jacob Franks, instructing Graham to hold the remains. When the messenger boys attempted to locate Graham they were unable to do so. No one seems to know Graham and consequently it is supposed the sending of the telegram was either a mistake or a joke.

As stated in this paper Tuesday inquiry at numerous points on Buckeye Lake failed to throw any light on the supposed drowning of Franks.

A woman, supposed to be a relative of Franks, was here Tuesday night inquiring about the case but was unable to find Graham or anybody who could tell why the message had been sent to Mansfield.
